MR. EDITOR :-I have this morning nothing of particular interest to communicate. I have just onked at the latest Cincinnati papers. They do not notice any further depredations by the Bank Mob, than had been perpetrated the day previous. The Slaveholders Convention, which was held at Annapolis, has a journed sine die. There is nothing new at the seat of the State Government. Yesterday afternoon Mr. John McKim, one of our oldest merchants, died of old age.

Last night Brother Kirk preached to the fullest and most crowded house I ever saw. Many as good a preacher has dispensed the word of life to a church full of empty benches.

Our markets are yet dull. The weather this morning is beautiful. Yours, Stocks, &c .. What a glorious day we have here, June, in brightness, warmth and gaiety rarely if ever surpassed it. Our streets have all day been filled with an array of the most beautiful women and the most stupid dandies that the world ever saw. O! what a climate this is. Who would sigh for Italy under such a sun, and amit so much sprightly leveliness as is seen in the bright eyes and glowing cheeks of eur ladies. But enough of this.

Judge Hopkinsen was buried this morning, and business both in court and out is progressing as usual. I had thought that the Courts would at least have postponed business until to-morrow. There are various small movements on foot to seoure his vacated place, but they are connected with such men, that I am sure, John Tyler will not isten to them for a moment.

The repudiators here as they are termed are about to make a bold stand in behalf of the principles that they have avowed, by establishing a paper devoted exclusively to the promulgation of the peculiar tenets which they are known to hold on the subject. The debt of the State, they say, was unconstitutionally contracted, and justice to the wronged tax-payers requires that its payment should be strenuously resisted. They number a pretty strong, and what is more, an increasing party.

State Fives improved to day; in other stocks so material change.

The Bank Case—At a f-w minutes past four, the parties to this case came into Court, and the investigation commenced by a farther examination of Mr. Taylor, present Cashier of the Bank. He stated how certain officers of the Bank were created, which was by anihority of a by-law passed sereral years since. Same offices were abolished July 19, 1840. Can't say whether Mr Jaudon was ever a Director of the Bank. On the 29th March, 1839, Mr. Biddle resigned his connection with the Bank—his somewhat noted letter resigning his place was read, and clashed somewhat gratingly with subsequent facts; and in fulsome falsehood was only equalled by the resolution offered immediately afterwards by Mr. J. R. Ingersoll. During the reading of these papers, an evident titler was observable throughout the House. Mr. Dunlap resigned his office of Director, 7th April, 1841. The present Bank first suspended 10th or 11th May, 1857, at half-past seven o'clock in the morning.

Areport of the Directors, previously made, was here proven. The Bank resumed next after this suspension in August, 1838. It next suspended October, 1839. They resumed next after this suspension in August, 1838. It next suspended October, 1839. They resumed next after this 18th—suspended again shortly after. First assignment was made, 5th May, 1841, to James Dundas, M. D. Lewis, Jones, Howell and Pitfield. The second assignment was made, 7th June, 1841, to Messrs. Bacon, Simpaton, and Thos. Rodney. The third and fourth, Sept. 1841, to Messrs. James Robertson, Thomas S. Taylor, and others. All, or nearly all, the effects passed under the assignment.

Mr. Biddle and his associates appeared to wince not a little, at the reading of his letter, and the resolutions responsive to it, passed by the Diretors. A tremendous crowd thronged the room.

10G Senection Fants.—During the recent trial of the Rev. Mr. Van Zant, at Rochester, the Counsel for the prosecutrix gave the name of Seduction Pantaloons to those opening dewn the front. Cant our neighbor Dr. Sherman get out some Anti-Seduction Lozenges.—If he could, and make them as effectual as his Cough, Worm, and Headache Lezenges, which do certainly cure those complaints sooner than any thing we know of, he would do his country some service. The Doctor's office is at 126 Nassau street.—Agents at 110 and 273 Broadway; 77 Last Broadway, and 188 Bowery.

Dr. Sherman wishes the public to understand that he has no connection in the store 409 Broadway.

27 CHATHAM THEATRE.—This house was crowded to excess last night on the occasions of Mrs. Thorne's benefit, and as an equally attractive bill is offered this evening, we predict the same result. Yankee Hill appears as Sr Saco, in his prize Comedy of the "Knights of the Goldon Fleece," and as Return Strong in the annusing Farce of "Cut and Come Again." The new Drama of "Ger Fawkes," which last night proved highly successful, is repeated, Kirby enacting Guy Fawkes, and Mrs. Thorne Viviana Radcliffe.

OP PRASE'S HONEITOND CANDY.—The presumption of some people in ascribing to their compound preperation a virtue of superior excellence, is now too evident to ad mit of public scrutiny. One man exhaust an income in pills, another in Syrapa, a third in initiation in color, taste, and every thing but the efficacy of Pease's Horehound Candy. But who has not discovered the imposition? Who has not proved to his eternal barefit, that this medicine is the pilot that guides to health, to comfert, to the enjoyment of life through the difficult navigation of it? In coughs, colds, and consumptions, where has it failed? Parifying and restoring in its efficacy, it pours balm into the soul, inferest life and light, and restores by its miraculous indurance the dead to life. It is to be found at 43 Division street.

At the Merchants' Exchange there were sales by auction of $89,000 of the 6 per cent bonds of the State of Illinois, payable in 1865. These bonds are a part of those pledged by the Commissioner, Mr. Whiteside, with Stebbins and M'Allister, to raise money for the payment of the July interest on the State debt of Illinois. The contract under which they were issued, it will be remembered, was pronounced null and void by the Commissioner, and the public were cautioned not to nurchase. The sales were however made at 171 a 184 purchase. The sales were, however, made at 17‡ a 18‡, without the coupons. The purchasers were for the most part those who had previously loaned money on them, and the sale was made for the purpose of helding the borrowers for the balance. A project is said to be on foot	at Ruffale	to recursitate

A project is said to be on foot at Buffalo, to resuscitate the broken Commercial Bank of Buffalo, safety fund. Such an attempt would be madness in the present state of the markets. The general causes of the failure of the Buffalo banks, was the redundancy of Bank capital. The immediate causes were the necessities of the speculators, who were brought into being by that redundancy. A still greater reduction in capital must yet be effected in this state before the remainder will be profitably, or even safely invested.

Frederick E. Whiting, the ex-Cashier of the Gallipo lis Bank, has broken jail. The sheriff and prosecuting attorney of Gallia county have offered $200 for his ap-prekension. The Suprema Court of Ohio have set Farington, the President, at liberty, or rather granted him a new trial.

In an other column will be found the details of a popular commotion in Cincinnati, Ohio, having for its objecthe subversion of the numerous shinplaster shops in that city, and the dispersion of the gangs of utterers of fraudulent paper, under the cloak of being brekers and agents for Banks. The people of Ohio have for several agents for Banks. The people of Ohio have for several years been the prey of swindling bankers from this State, Michigan and some of their own raising. These people have followed "humbly in the footsteps" of the great Philadelphia financiers, and like them have hitherto escaped the vengeence of the law. The people finding that both the laws and the Legislatures are powerless against the "chartered privileges" of corporate bankers, and being unable any longer to endure the oppression of an irredeemable paper currency, have been aroused to acts of violence, which even under these circumstances are scarcely to be nalliated. The immediations of the second cumstances are scarcely to be palliated. The immediate cause of the outbreak was the publication of the fol-

The Directors of this Bank are compelled to announce heir inability any longer to redeem the issues of the company. They have assumed this painful alternative mly after all expedients to sustain the Bank have failed, and their united exertions have been fruitless to obtain he useful means.

and their united exertions have been fruitless to obtain the useful means.

They deem a short review of the operations of the Bank due to the public, as well as to the Stockholders, which they therefore subjoin:

Is May, 1837, when the Bank came into the hands of its present Managers, it had a current debt of $615,728 17, and a circulation of $380,222. Of the debt, $199,908 33, was due at Conneaut, besides about $50,000 by debtors in Cleveland and vicinity. Of the circulation, $199,800 was payable at the Branch. This circulation of the Branch has been reduced to less than $1,300 by the Bank here while the debt on the Lake shore remain at an amount rising $100,000, more than enough to pay all the liabilities of the Bank, without touching the Cincinnati portion of the debt.

ies of the Bank, whence to desire the Company have ion of the debt.

Thus, it will be seen, the means of the Company have been devoted to the extinguishment of the Branch circu lation, in addition to that payable in Cincinnati, while the Branch debt, although considered good, has always een dead weight.

The circulation of this Bank has not, since 1839, been the circulation of this bank warranted, and

The circulation of this Bank has not, since 1839, been greater than the capital of this bank warranted, and might in ordinary times have been sustained without difficulty. Frem July 1, 1841, to the present time, (six months) the circulation has decreased upwards of $70 000, and is yet recurring rapidly. Besides the securities of fered to note-holders in the debts due the bank, the directors solicit attention to the item of real estate. This consists of property taken at fair prices for debts in Bu talo. Toledo, and elsewhere, and although not at once available, it is believed good prices may be realized eventually.

available, it is believed good prices may be realized oventually.

To secure an equal and fair distribution of the means of the bank, as well as to allay unnecessary alarm, the board have determed to make a full and entire assignment of all the effects of the company; and as recipients of this trust, have chosen three gentlemen of undoubted integrity, whose knowledge of the business in all its bearings, warrants the hope of a speedy and just settlement. Messrs. Aug. Moore, R. Buchanan, and J. R. Childs, are the gentlemen named in the deed of assignment.
